Meeting Unanimously Favors Monument

The public meeting called by the War Memorial Committee was held in the opera house Thursday evening for the purpose of receiving reports, and if possible, making a decision as to the form the proposed memorial shall take.

President T. H. Beach occupied the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Mallory read a communication from the Thompson Monument Co., Toronto, which stated that a representative of the company would be in the west early in February and would wire the date when he could meet the committee. The president was instructed to call the committee on receipt of the wire.

Correspondence was read by the secretary from the War Trophies Department at Ottawa, and also from H. H. Halliday, M.P., re our application for guns. On motion the letters were filed.

The soldiers listing committee reported that about 200 names had been turned into The Call office but that much difficulty was experienced in getting particulars, and urged all possible co-operation in this work.

Mr. D. Hardwick reported on canvass, submitting returns from the local canvassers, which amounted to a little more than $1600. He estimated that on the present basis not more than $2500 would be collected.

A number of the canvassers stated that in their opinion the canvass would be more successful if some definite decision, with respect to the form of the memorial, could be reached.

In the general discussion which followed among those who took part were Messrs. Wilson, Payne, Munroe, Matthews, Brown, Evans and Hardwick.

It soon became apparent a memorial hall or hospital were not practicable. Mr. Hardwick then described a memorial which would be permanent in character and would be erected solely in honor of the boys, as follows:

A hollow base constructed of rough granite blocks approximately six feet high. This base to stand on two step solid foundation of concrete. This last the Indians had asked to be allowed to donate as their contribution. On three sides of the base provision would be made for inlating bronze tablets, which tablets would contain the names of all enlisted men. A door placed on the fourth side of the base would provide admission to the hollow chamber, which might contain permanent and complete records of every man connected with any branch of the war service, together with a list of all subscribers to the fund.

On this base would be erected the figure representing victory. The right hand of the statue would support a shield on which would be engraved the names of all men who had paid the supreme sacrifice, the left arm pointing to the land where they fought for us and is now their resting place.

Moved by Messrs. F. L. Mallory and W. W. Brown and unanimously carried:

"That the money already collected or may be collected be used for the erection of a memorial such as has been described by Mr. Hardwick, and that the working out of all details be left in the hands of the committee."

Bowling Match

Last Friday night ten of our 5-pin experts went to Bassano to play the dam site line up. Mr. McCaugherty and his gang were in good form and also in good luck, and managed to finish by a small majority. There was some creditable scores made on both sides. McCaugherty with his 172 and McKeek with 175 made the Bassano team hard to beat. Riley for the Gleichen made only 15 in the first game and finished with 143, Bradshaw coming second with 128 is remarkable and worthy of mention, seeing thirty days ago he knew so little of the game that he didn't know how to score. The boys were delighted with the treatment received and are looking forward to Friday night when the Bassano teams play here to return their enjoyable evening and incidentally a good trimming.

Two more Warriors Have Returned Home

Pte. Henry Little returned home from the war on the troop train that passed through Gleichen about noon on Thursday last. He was exceedingly glad to get back home again and is still busy meeting his relatives and friends. He is now visiting his brother at Queenstown. His mother and father, both Germans, are very proud of their soldier boy and the former called at this office to say how glad she was her boy had reached home safely. He was wounded severely but appears to have recovered nicely and is a fine looking young fellow that all Gleichen is justly proud of.

Private W. Weeks returned home on Monday, having reached Calgary on Friday. He volunteered in June 1916 and saw plenty of service at the front, but escaped without a wound, but has had considerable illness and still is lame. He met many old friends here who were all pleased to meet him again. It will be remembered he was employed by Wm. Kirkup and on the C. P.R. canal. He expects his wife to follow him from England before very long. He thanked us for sending The Call free to his wife and said it arrived regularly and read and re-read, not only by himself and wife but by many Gleichen boys he met in England and France.

Would Discriminate

Gleichen, Feb. 1, 1919

Editor Call:—

In looking over the list, published in the last issue of your valuable paper of names to be placed on the proposed soldiers monument. I in common with others was greatly surprised to see the names of two men, who to escape prison sentences were practically compelled to join the army and on their last visit here were ordered out of town and several prominent citizens saw that this order was carried out.

Now sir, I do not think it is a square deal to give men who voluntarily gave up their homes and in some cases their lives to have their names coupled with those who not only committed a crime against society, but were willing, if you can believe the evidence produced at their trial, to take a chance of destroying not only buildings but also valuable lives in order to cover the evidence of their crimes.

I should have attended the meeting on Thursday night and entered my protest then, had I seen the Call in time, but as a fact I did not see the paper till after I got home that night and it was too late then. I hope there is yet time to rectify this mistake as I feel sure it must be.

I think that there is a mistake about Staff-Sgt. Bielby being one of the missing as in the last letter from Mrs. Carstairs, his step daughter, to my daughter, she said that he was still O. K.

Yours sincerely,
DAVID L. BRERETON.

Owing to the dissatisfaction expressed following the appearance of Princess Radziwill the Winter Lyceum Committee beg to advise the season ticket holders and the general public that the remaining portion of the course has been cancelled. The committee took this ground from the fact that each performance was only adding a bigger

Germany Did Not Expect Such a Heavy Burden

Berlin. — State Secretary Erzberger, in response to a request by a U.S. correspondent, gave the following statement regarding the conditions of the armistice from the German point of view. The German people have of late been showing increased interest in the proceedings at Treves while hitherto the armistice conference has been somewhat overshadowed by the uncertain political conditions.

"The German people," said Herr Erzberger, "expected that the armistice would be a short transition period leading to a peace of right based upon President Wilson's fourteen points. They were entitled to this hope because before the determination of the armistice conditions in answer to Mr. Wilson's enquiry all the allied governments had agreed to the fourteen points. So far this hope has been fruitless. More than two months of the armistice period have passed without one of these hopes being realized and we do not know when Germany can enter into negotiations for a preliminary peace. At the same time there is a disappearance more and more in the confidence of the German people in a peace of right."

"The hard terms of the armistice which have become heavier by its prolongation, showed that some of the enemy states wished to profit by the distress of the German people to procure an advantage which a peace of right would not permit. Thus Britain, through a needless violation of the word and spirit of the determined conditions, secured the seizure of German battleships and cruisers and had them interned in the British port of Scapa Flow instead of a neutral port. Thus France and Belgium secured extreme indemnities on economic and financial grounds through the armistice, though, according to Mr. Wilson's points, it should have been an affair of the peace conference under reparations and restitutions. Thus during the armistice France is building Alsace-Lorraine into an official French department regardless of the fact that, first, the peace conditions must be decided. Even further France is extending the frontiers in her favor in order to take away from Germany the vital coal lands in the Sauer basin."

"Powerless, Germany must permit this to happen and await the destiny which will be dealt her by the hand of her opponent. Germany's joyful hope, born of new times, of the change from autocracy as well as from an awakened idea of the formation of a league of nations, is brutally trampled upon and mocked by those who before the armistice could not be enthusiastic enough about the freedom, equality and fraternity of peoples. The German people are disappointed and embittered."

After Dawson Dives

Dawson. — Col. Knight, commanding the Mounted Police in this district, has rounded up numerous gambling resorts here. One of the most notorious offenders was given his choice of six months' imprisonment or a journey south to face the influenza. He went south, and is now hitting the trail at 50 below zero.

Anglo-American Understanding

Paris. — Every day that passes increases the certainty that Britain and the United States have reached an agreement on all fundamental questions and are working closely together. Both nations have made concessions; Britain has accepted the U. S. views as to certain vital phases of the league of nations and the U. S. has surrendered to Britain with respect to the old contention regarding freedom of the seas says a U. S. press correspondent.

No regret should be wasted over this surrender for it was the weakest point in the American program. Their original conception grew out of the controversies first with Britain and then with Germany over the rights of neutrals. The United States claimed the privilege under the existing sea laws of trading freely with both sides; Britain contended that while these laws were applicable in former times they were not so any longer since modern wars are fought, not between professional armies and navies, but between whole peoples. Everybody is a combatant in a certain sense and therefore everything

For Return of Kaiser

Paris. — Field Marshal von Hindenburg, according to the Echo de Paris, is endeavoring to bring about the return of former Emperor William, after the meeting of the national assembly. Leading German manufacturers in Westphalia are said to be interested in the plan. The newspaper adds that the former emperor wrote to Premier Ebert that he would accept whatever residence Germany was assigned to him. Ebert is said to have replied that only the national assembly would be qualified to decide the question.

Strike Movement is Spreading in Belfast

City by Night Is Now in Total Darkness

London. — It is estimated that nearly 200,000 men and women are idle in the United Kingdom and Ireland because of strikes in various trades, creating one of the most serious situations industrially that the country has had to face in many years. Half of the strikers are in Belfast, where the strike movement is continuing to spread.

The city of Belfast by night is now in virtually total darkness, the hospitals being the only places where lights can be shown without danger of attacks by strikers. Everywhere else the display of light has caused either the stoning or the storming of the premises. In cases where such drastic action was not taken the people were forced by threats to screen their lights. Even in the private houses it is not considered safe to use more than one candle and the supply of candles is rapidly diminishing.

Consider Adriatic Question

With View to Determine Merits of Claims Put Forward

Paris. — A commission, consisting of four admirals representing Great Britain, the United States, France and Italy, has been in session at Fiume inquiring into the occupation of various ports along the eastern coast of the Adriatic.

This occupation came to the attention of the meeting of premiers held in London early in December prior to the arrival of President Wilson. It was decided to ask four admirals to make an inquiry with a view to determine the merits of respective claims being put forward in that region.

Meetings of the commission have been suspended indefinitely, it is said, owing to the withdrawal of the Italian representative, who is understood to be in entire accord with his colleagues as to the desirability of the inquiry.

Czechs Will Occupy Eastern Silesia

Allied Troops Will Not Be Concerned in Occupation

London. — President Masaryk, of the Czechoslovak republic, according to an official statement made by him and received here by wireless from Warsaw, has announced that Czechoslovak troops will occupy eastern Silesia. He denies that allied troops will be concerned in the occupation.

The president's statement follows: "In view of the unsatisfactory conditions in Eastern Silesia, the Czechoslovak government has decided to occupy the province with Czechoslovak troops. All statements appearing in the press declaring that the entente has decided to occupy Eastern Silesia are without authorization and entirely incorrect. The British, American, French and Italian officers mentioned in the newspapers are attached to the Czechoslovak army and take their orders from the Czechoslovak government. No troops except Czechoslovak legions are being employed in the region."

Report is Misleading

Airplane Plant Was Turned Over to Canadian Government

Ottawa. — Reports from New York saying that a United States syndicate had purchased all the aircraft plants in Canada, together with their entire equipment from the imperial munitions board are characterized in government circles as misleading and incorrect.

Upon the demobilization of the Royal Air Force late in 1918, the imperial munitions board placed at the disposal of the Canadian authorities its various plants and equipment with a view to giving the first choice of those it desired to avail itself of. The government, thereupon, intimated that the airframe and airplane plant at Camp Borden, one of the best and most adequately equipped in the world, together with the training grounds and other property at the camp, would be suitable for the future development of aviation in Canada and the entire equipment was turned over to the Canadian government.

Summer Fair Dates

Calgary Opens Circuit First Week of July

Saskatoon, Sask. — Dates for 1919 summer fairs in the prairie provinces were decided by the Western Canada Fairs' Association in session here. The circuit will open at Calgary in the first week of July, to be followed by Edmonton in the second week, Saskatoon in the third, Brandon in the fourth, and Regina at the end of July and first of August.

No Flu in Yukon

Dawson. — No cases of Spanish influenza have developed as yet in the Yukon. George McKenzie, commissioner for the Yukon, who is returning from Ottawa, held a conference at Skagway with the health officer at that point and other officials, and all agreed that an inflexible quarantine would be continued there until the last vestige of the disease had disappeared. The quarantine will be enforced rigidly when spring travel and navigation opens. All incoming travellers are quarantined at Skagway for five days, and the quarantine has proved efficient.

Adjustment of Affairs in Russia Seems Impossible

Ypres as Memorial

London. — The decision of the Belgian government to maintain Ypres, the scene of several battles between the British and the Germans, in its present condition as a permanent memorial is endorsed heartily by British press and public opinion.

"Ypres will be a memorial," says the Westminster Gazette, "in which future generations may learn the horror of war, there is nothing more impressive than the site of the stricken city with the skeletons of its once wonderful buildings rising gaunt into the sky. In a sense there are few things more beautiful. To patch it up would be impossible. Everyone, therefore, will welcome the decision that the remains of the old city shall be left intact instead of being cleared away."

"The ruins abound in the ruins of the last vestiges of once glorious civilization which have been overthrown. Ypres will stand for centuries as a reminder that civilization itself cannot be overthrown and as a monument to the generation sacrificed in its defence."

U. S. Will Supply Food

But Germany Must Find Money to Pay For It

New York. — Under the general food program outlined by the allies, Germany will be allowed about 6,000,000 bushels of breadstuffs a month, mostly from the United States, if she finds the money to pay for it, according to a detailed statement of foreign grain requirements cabled by Herbert C. Hoover to Julius Barnes, president of the United States Grain Corporation and made public here.

Between now and July, France and Italy will take 80,000,000 bushels of wheat and flour from the grain corporation, while the allied governments will take also about 75,000,000 bushels of oats.

Queensbury to Reside in West

Montreal. — "Canada is the best place in the world for one to settle in, who wishes to be next door neighbor to opportunity," said the Marquis of Queensbury, after making the announcement to an interviewer that he was going to reside near Prince Rupert with his family.

Paris. — In view of the decision of the peace conference to negotiate with all the constituted Russian governments, including the Bolsheviks, it is well to recapitulate the Bolshevik ideas concerning foreign commerce. The material is taken from a Russian bureau document. All banks are nationalized and no foreign bank or other foreign business enterprise is allowed in Russia.

Participation of foreign capital in the development of Russian industry is permitted only in the following way: Money may be borrowed in foreign countries only to purchase the machinery and material needed in the organization of productive industries. No foreign stockholder or bondholder is allowed in any Russian enterprise. The only security that would be offered for foreign loans would be the admission to the factories of technical experts and engineers representing the foreigners loaning money. These experts would assist in developing the industry to which the money was loaned.

No foreign imports are allowed except those used in developing Russian industry. The importation of foreign articles for general use is forbidden. It is evident that the Bolsheviks have intended to raise a Chinese wall of exclusion against the manufactured products of the rest of the world. Such a system naturally is viewed with alarm by other manufacturing countries. The Bolsheviks further plan that no goods, even foreign, be paid in money but by transfer of credit in the national Russian bank. The plan contemplates that the nationalized industries shall produce only for national consumption. All private retailing and wholesaling concerns would be abolished. All transfer of goods would be handled by co-operatives.

The state would control and distribute the raw material. As there would be no export of manufactured goods or raw material no imports of any kind could be paid for. This plan has not been attempted or applied in Russia because the government has not been able to set on foot any economic system in the chaotic condition of the country. However, as the plan represents the Bolshevik aims it will no doubt be discussed provided the conferences between the allies and the constituted Russian governments take place.

No Relief for People
Minneapolis. — War time bread prices will prevail throughout the world for another eighteen months, leading Minneapolis flour millers have predicted.

Evacuation Scenes in France

British troops taking back the civil population to their original homes.

Monroe Doctrine Might Apply to Australia

Senator Borah Sees Spectre of Trouble in Interference With Other Nations' Doctrines

Washington. — Vigorous opposition to plans reported from Paris for the international government of former German colonies was considered in the senate.

The speaker said he was not in favor of the United States assuming any "obligation to control, govern, or be responsible for any part of the German possessions."

Senator Borah said Australia, in demanding the German islands of the Pacific had announced a Monroe doctrine for Australia, and added:

"If we, as a member of a league, interfere with the Monroe doctrine of Japan, or of some other nation, how long it would be before they would interfere with our Monroe doctrine?"

Should Eliminate Slums

Governor-General Sounded Note of Warning Against Bolshevism

Quebec. — Addressing the members of the Quebec Canadian club here His Excellency the governor-general dealt chiefly with the victorious termination of the war, and the various post-war problems which had to be confronted and settled.

His Excellency sounded a note of warning against the spread of Bolshevism which is now threatening stating that it requires dark and hidden places in which to flourish, and if taken in time and dealt with in the proper manner it can be exterminated. Elimination of all slums, he gave as one means of fighting the menace for as the slums increase so also will these fantastic ideas become stronger.

Revolt in Rumania

Vienna. — A peasant revolution has broken out over the length and breadth of Rumania, according to despatches from Budapest. A simultaneous rising occurred in all the villages at a fixed hour, when well-armed home-coming soldiers, leading the insurgents, forced their way into the various towns, resulting in sanguinary encounters with the regular troops.

In Bucharest, the despatches say, there was fighting all day long, the regulars employing machine guns. Many were killed or wounded. Social revolutionists joined in the movement.

ARMY VERY SMALL

German Volunteers are of Doubtful Morale

Coblenz. — According to estimates by the intelligence officers of the American third army, based upon reports from all parts of Germany, the organized German army now located in various depots numbers from 300,000 to 500,000 men. The reports indicate that these soldiers are of such morale that they hardly will be available for operations of any extent. The number of men in the army, reports reaching Coblenz suggest, is decreasing rapidly.

The new volunteer army numbers between 100,000 and 300,000 men of doubtful morale and they have not yet been organized fully or tested fairly. The volunteer army which is being organized for the purpose of stopping Polish and Bolshevik invasions of German territory, has 40,000 men in the region of Frankfurt-on-the-Oder. Many volunteer battalions also are reported moving eastward.

Turks Attacking Armenian Villages

Fearful Another Chapter of Atrocities Will Be Added to Record

London. — Intense anxiety is felt by Armenians here over reports that large bodies of Turkish troops have joined Tartar bands, and are attacking Armenian villages. It is feared that still another chapter of atrocities will be added to the Turkish record before the allies are able to relieve the beleaguered Armenian towns.

Details still are lacking of the massacre at Baku after the Turks, reinforced by Tartar and German troops, had captured the city. Unofficial reports to the Armenian bureau here indicate that about 20,000 people, including a considerable number of Armenian soldiers, were slaughtered in Baku and in the surrounding region.

Shackleton's Ship Lost

Yarmouth, Eng. — The exploration ship Endurance, formerly the sealing schooner Nimrod, which Sir Ernest Shackleton used in his explorations in the Antarctic and which has been engaged in the coal trade between France and England, was dashed to pieces on the sands off Yarmouth recently. Ten members of the crew of twelve were lost.

Foe Hold on Small Nations

Germany Prepared for Peace More Carefully Than for War

St. Catharines, Ont. — Even if Germany has conceded President Wilson's famous fourteen points, they still beat us 90 per cent. Germany has prepared for peace far more carefully than she did for war, declared Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of Pilgrim church, Brooklyn, in the course of an address on "German Atrocities" here.

Dr. Hillis declared that Germany has massed all her banking deposits in one system and conserved the funds to buy up control of the water powers of Switzerland, the coal mines of Poland, the platinum and petroleum deposits of Russia and the vast timber tracts of Siberia.

"Unless we bring in a fifteenth point forcing Germany to release her industrial stranglehold on the smaller nations of Europe, we have failed hands down," Dr. Hillis declared. Germany herself values her stock and bond holdings at $165,000,000,000. I would place the figure nearer $250,000,000,000. She can afford to pay back all the great indemnities required of her and still have holdings great enough to make her the greatest industrial power in Europe. However, we have men over there at the peace conference table who know what they want. They have bought their knowledge with blood and they will see that they get what they want."

Say Allies Must Evacuate Russia

If They Desire to Prove Their Fitness to Act as Arbitrators

Paris. — Further light on the Bolshevik attitude toward the invitation of the allied and associated powers for a conference with the Russian factions at Prince's Islands is given by an article in the Bolshevik official newspaper Izvestia of January 26.

The Izvestia article, which was signed by M. Neklor, lays stress on the indirect character of the invitation, noting that it bore neither address nor signature. The writer declares the allies must choose between the role of adversaries of the new Russia and that of arbitrators. If they desire to prove their fitness to act as arbitrators he insists they must completely evacuate Russia. Then their initiative, he adds, may be taken seriously.

Apply Internationalism to Captured Hun Colonies

London. — The British imperial war council has accepted President Wilson's theory of internationalization as applied to the captured German colonies, notwithstanding energetic protests from the representatives of the Dominions, says the Daily Mail's Paris correspondent.

"These protests," says the correspondent, "have been of the gravest character. The South African representatives believe acceptance will give the greatest encouragement to the rebel forces in South Africa which it ever has received during British administration. The Australian delegates fear that Australian public opinion will regard it as extremely unsatisfactory and inexplicable. The Dominion representatives generally, though very reticent, are greatly perturbed."

The Daily Mail cites Arabia and Mesopotamia as place where the possible inhabitants are capable of self-determination and would have their wishes put into effect by the league of nations.

Regarding safeguards under which the mandates would administer to the countries whose people are not ripe for self-determination, the Daily Mail says President Wilson proposes that the safeguards shall be settled by the peace conference of the league of nations, they being varied according to local conditions.

"President Wilson doubtless has before him," the correspondent continues, "the principles of colonial administration as those which the league must enforce by safeguard, and the British view appears to be that under this system, while formal administration is given to President Wilson's theory, the right of government by mandatory power will not differ in effect from the British imperial conception. This view induced the imperial cabinet to accept President Wilson's plan, but an examination into the steps to be taken for putting it into effect already reveals the gravest difficulties.

"It involves three difficulties of paramount importance.

"First—Who is to pay for the development of the territory?

"Second—What rules regarding tariffs are to be observed? and

"Third—Are the mandates to be allowed to exclude people or capital they do not wish to enter?

"President Wilson believes all these can be settled by separate consideration of the case of each territory. He even foresees the possibility of the league having revenue derived from constituent members, which might be spent in developing lands which it will nominally own.

"French, Italian and British colonial opinion is that any system of international control always has proved a failure and always will, and that the only right of interference which the league ought to assume would be the right to call to account any power whose government is injurious to the interests of the inhabitants.

"The colonial delegates declare that public opinion in their countries is quite incapable of appreciating the idea of administration under President Wilson's scheme, which may under certain circumstances, not differ materially from actual possession."

Large Demand for Seed Oats

Purchasing Commission Has to Provide Approximately Three Million Bushels

Regina, Sask. — Owing to the destruction to a large extent through drought, there is a scarcity of oats and a large demand for seed in Southern Alberta and parts of Saskatchewan and Southwestern Manitoba. It is estimated that the Canadian government seed purchasing commission has to provide approximately three million bushels of seed oats. About one-third of this quantity will be acquired locally, or through the ordinary channels of trade by municipalities, farmers' organizations and individual farmers. A few hundred thousand bushels are also available from Ontario of early maturing varieties. There is also a supply from Prince Edward Island, but on account of weather conditions these oats are dull in color and may not be so acceptable to the western grower as the local grown oats. Investigations into the seed supply in the states of North Dakota and Minnesota would indicate the possibility of also procuring a few hundred thousand bushels from this source.

No one need endure the agony of corns with Holloway's Corn Cure at hand to remove them.

Has Successful Year

The year 1918 was again a successful one for the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company. No less than 27,066,261 bushels of grain was handled through the company's 298 country elevators and over railway platforms. The company's terminal elevator at Port Arthur, Ontario, was opened early in the year, and handled up to the end of July, 4,000,000 bushels of grain. Figures for the second half of the year are not yet available. Now a new hospital elevator, with a capacity of 600,000 bushels, is nearing completion, and is expected to be ready for business during the present month.

Saloniki. — According to a semi-official statement issued here, the Turkish cabinet, headed by Tewfik Pasha, has resigned as a result of allied demands that Turkey restore property carried away during the war from occupied territories and cease carrying out drastic measures against Greeks and Armenians. It is said that the sultan will participate in the work of reconstructing the cabinet.

RUSSIA IS ALARMED

Vladivostok. — According to statements in the Russian press, all parties are alarmed at the reports of the allies' retirement from Siberia in the spring or summer.

Prominent men of many shades of political opinion declare there will be a carnival of murder and rapine as the result of the withdrawal, as the situation points to a war of extermination of either the upper classes or the Bolsheviks.

Wish to Unite With Swiss

Berle. — Petitions circulated in the district of Voralberg on the Austrian frontier, urging a union with Switzerland, have met with surprising support. In the first 20 towns and villages where the petitions were circulated, 90 and 98 per cent. of the citizens signed them. They are addressed to the Swiss government and the peace conference.

She Took Her Father's Advice

AND DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS SOON HELPED HER BACKACHE

How Mrs. Beaudoin Found Complete and Permanent Relief From Her Kidney Trouble

Fisherton, Man., Feb. 3, (Special). — "I have taken your Dodd's Kidney Pills for kidney trouble, and they have completely cured me." These are the words of Mrs. Arthur Beaudoin, a well-known resident of this place, and it is no exaggeration to say she voices the sentiment of a large number of the people of Manitoba. They have had kidney trouble; they have used Dodd's Kidney Pills; they have found them good. "Yes," she says, in speaking of her case, "I suffered from kidney disease for six months before I was married in October, 1917, and two weeks after I was married I was laid up. The doctor gave me no relief. My father advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. I commenced to take them at once, and a few days after I felt better. I continued to take them until I was perfectly cured. I will always keep them in the house, as they are my best friends."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have been used to treat rheumatism, sciatica, diabetes, dropsy, sore back, gravel, and other similar ills. The reason they continue to give satisfaction is evidenced by their ever-growing popularity.

If you haven't used Dodd's Kidney Pills, ask your neighbors about them.

Rumor is Unfounded

Canadians "Presumed Dead" Have Not Been Found in Germany

Ottawa. — Following the publication of an unfounded rumor to the effect that some 1,500 Canadian soldiers, previously reported "missing and presumed dead," had been located in Germany since the signing of the armistice last November, the militia department here has been deluged with letters from all parts of Canada from the next of kin of men falling in this category.

The publication of the rumor has had distressing results, in that relatives of soldiers reported "missing and presumed dead," have had hopes revived only to again be shattered. The militia department characterizes the story as a "hoax" and is taking steps to discover its origin.

Opportunities Greater In Young Country

Story of the Success of a Young Married Man in Manitoba

The "Nor'-West Farmer," of Winnipeg, tells the following story of the success of a young married man who settled in Manitoba about six years ago, with very little capital at the time.

"He rented a quarter section in a district in northwest Manitoba for a cash rental of one hundred dollars a year and the taxes. It was cheap land in nearly all particulars, but it grew grass and would produce a good crop of grain. This man bought three mares, a sulky plow, a second-hand seeder, harrow, mower, rake and wagon, moved into the alleged dwelling house and went to work. The first thing he did was to get some sheep for nothing. He induced some people he knew to put 50 ewes with him on shares. The ewes cost less than five dollars apiece in 1912. We have forgotten the exact figure but it was somewhere in that neighborhood. The sheep were taken under a 3-year contract and the contract renewed for another three years when it expired.

"The flock now numbers around 300 head. The farmer gets half the wool and half the increase for looking after it. He doesn't own a horse in the flock but his share of the wool last season was worth a little under seven hundred dollars, and his half of the lamb crop will be worth fourteen hundred or more. His income last year from the sheep was well over two thousand dollars. Besides the sheep he has a herd of cattle, and on shares, and runs a 'pig finishing depot.' We imagine this man's income last season would be well over four thousand dollars. He keeps one man the year round at a cost of about fifty dollars a month and board, and grows nothing but feed on the original quarter section."

Of course, as the Nor'-West Farmer says, there is no cut and dried rule for success. In Western Canada, as anywhere else, "a great deal depends on the man, the way he applies himself and the judgment used in management." But the opportunities in this young country are greater.

DOCTOR URGED AN OPERATION

Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Was Cured.

Baltimore, Md. — "Nearly four years I suffered from organic troubles, nervousness and headaches and every month would have to stay in bed most of the time. Treatments would relieve me for a time but my doctor was always urging me to have an operation. My sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before consenting to an operation. I took five bottles of it and it has completely cured me and my work is a pleasure. I tell all my friends who have any trouble of this kind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." —NELLIE B. BRITTINGHAM, 609 Calverton Rd., Baltimore, Md.

It is only natural for any woman to dread the thought of an operation. So many women have been restored to health by this famous remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after an operation has been advised that it will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to consider trying it before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

Appeal to Allies

Governments of Russia Ask for Assistance

Paris. — The governments of Siberia, the Caucasus and the Crimea, have addressed to the Russian representatives gathered in Paris a declaration to be presented to the allies and associated governments. It is in the form of an appeal for help and justice.

The governments, in addressing the allies and associated governments, say they are equally against past and present autocracy and that they are only aiming to establish throughout Russia a modern progressive and enlightened form of government, granting to all racial sects cultural freedom on the broadest lines, thus insuring the widest possible autonomy and the maintenance of the unity of the nation.

THE TREASURE OF GOOD HEALTH

Easily Maintained Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There is not a nook or corner in the villages, on the farms and in the mines and lumber camps, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other they have brought back to bread-winners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and strength.

You have only to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatic or nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or anaemic girl who, by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, has regained his or her health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For more than a quarter of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada, but throughout all the world, as a reliable tonic, blood-making medicine.

The wonderful success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go right to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich and red strengthen every organ and every nerve, thus driving out disease and pain, and making weak, dependent people bright, active and strong. Mr. W. T. Johnson, one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in Lunenburg county, N.S., says:—"I am a Provincial Land Surveyor, and am exposed for the greater part of the year to very hard work travelling through the forests by day and camping out by night, and I find the only thing that will keep me up to the mark is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I leave home for a trip in the woods I am as interested in having my supply of pills as provisions, and on such occasions, I take them regularly. The result is I am always fit. I never take cold and can digest all kinds of food such as we have to put up with in the woods. Having proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic and health builder, I am never without them, and I lose no opportunity in recommending them to weak people whom I meet."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home, and their occasional use will keep the blood pure and ward off illness. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Saskatchewan Leads

In Breeding of Purebred Horses Under Government Direction

Regina, Sask. — Saskatchewan is the leading province in the breeding of purebred horses under federal government direction, and is the first province in population of horses, according to C. M. MacRae, chief of the horse division of the Dominion livestock branch, Ottawa.

Mr. MacRae, who addressed the meeting of the Saskatchewan Horse Breeders' at Saskatoon, referred to the government assistance toward purebred breeding of horses, which consists of a grant of one-third of the service fees to organized clubs. The clubs are formed for the purpose of community breeding, to make the community distinct in the breeding of a particular type of horses.

Saskatchewan, Mr. MacRae said, has led the provinces in the number of clubs formed since the scheme was adopted in 1915. At present there are 160 such clubs in the Dominion, of which 60 are in Saskatchewan, Ontario standing second.

BARS IMMIGRATION

Washington. — Prohibition of immigration for four years after the war, except from Cuba, Mexico, Canada and Newfoundland, was agreed upon unanimously by the house immigration committee.

Chairman Burnett announced that he would ask for a special rule to permit early consideration of the measure by the house.

A number of amendments accepted permit the admission of relatives of aliens already in this country and of persons skilled in certain occupations and professions.

Government to Fight Rebellion

Is Concentrating Large Bodies of Troops

Lisbon. — The government is assembling large bodies of troops to put down the Royalist rebellion at Oporto, says an official statement issued in which the republican victory over the rebellious Lisbon troops at Monsanto Hill near the capital, is described. The statement says:

A certain number of units belonging to the Lisbon garrison declared in favor of the Oporto royalist rebels on January 23. They left their barracks and took up positions in the mountains of Monsanto above Lisbon. Their forces were composed of one regiment of cavalry and three battalions of field artillery.

The government immediately ordered faithful troops to surround the position and opened lists for the enrollment of civilian battalions, under the command of army officers. In a few hours more than 9,000 enrolled. The rebels were surrounded and promptly defeated. Their guns were captured and what remained of their cavalry fled in disorder, closely pursued by the republican troops.

The news of the victory aroused great enthusiasm in Lisbon. Ayres Ornelas, the chief officer of King Manuel, was with the rebel troops. (A Lisbon despatch recently reported that Ornelas had been killed in the Monsanto hill fighting.)

The government is concentrating large bodies of troops with the object of suppressing the Oporto rebellion.

Paris. — Portuguese royalists are completely in control of the province of Minho and Trasmontes, according to a wireless despatch from Madrid to the Journal des Debats.

Advices to the same newspaper say that it is reported that the republican troops which were defeated by the Monarchists at Coimbra, are about to go over to the cause of the Monarchists.

The provinces of Minho and Trasmontes are in Northern Portugal. They have been the centre of monarchist operations recently and it was reported from Vigo that former King Manuel of Portugal had landed in Minho.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Western Canada's Wool Production

Seventy Per Cent. of Wool Came From the West

Figures made public by the Canadian Wool Growers', Limited, show that about seventy per cent. of the wool disposed of by the company last year came from the West. Approximately 4,300,000 pounds of wool were handled altogether, its worth being about $2,821,000. Western Canada's share is therefore about 3,100,000 pounds, valued at $1,947,700.

The figures also show that Alberta contributed forty-seven per cent. of the total, or slightly over two million pounds, which brought a revenue to the farmers of the province of well over $900,000.

The Canadian Wool Growers', Limited, was formed by the majority of the wool growers of Canada last year to handle the sale of wool produced in Canada. The results of the first year's working are very satisfactory, and augur well for the future development of the country.

Buxton Used as Discharge Depot

London. — The Canadian discharge depot at Buxton, Col. Paul Hansen commanding, is for the future to be used for sending married men with dependents in England home.

The discharge depot will work in conjunction with the Canadian emigration offices in London, which are now charged with the repatriation of soldiers' dependents. The new arrangements are confidently expected to work efficiently and to obviate the dissatisfaction which existed in the past and which cannot be denied has often been legitimate.

Increased Building Activity Noted

The year 1918 saw considerably more building undertaken—both in the cities and in the country—than in any previous year since the outbreak of the war. The value of building permits issued in some cities were more than twice as great as in any previous year since 1914. In other cities thirty to fifty per cent. more building was undertaken last year than in any of the three previous years. The outlook for the building trade in 1919 has, of course, considerably improved since the signing of the armistice.

Will Establish Briquette Plants

With Capacity of Producing 30,000 Tons Per Year

St. Andrews, Man. — Thomas Hay, M.P., speaking under the auspices of the St. Andrew's educational society, gave a most interesting address on "The Conservation and Development of Our National Resources." Mr. Hay touched on the subject of timber resources, and the pulp wood and paper industry, coal and fuel, water power, and iron resources.

He assured his hearers that he would support to the full any measures adopted by the government for the conservation of forests and the prevention, as far as possible, of fires which have been responsible in the past for so much damage.

With regard to coal in the middle west Mr. Hay said it was the intention of the government to establish a plant at Estevan at a cost of $400,000 with a capacity of producing 30,000 tons of briquettes per year, manufactured from the native lignite and sub-bituminous coals of the district, which could compete very favorably with the hard coal now imported from the states.

Alberta Population

Calgary. — According to an article in the Morning Albertan, the population of Alberta is 579,000. The former figure was 469,525. As the annual subsidy is fifty cents a head this means an increase in the total subsidy this year of $65,000. Alberta is now crowding Manitoba close for fourth place, if it has not already passed it.

When David W. Griffith was directing scenes just back of the trenches in France, shells fell and exploded within a hundred feet of him three different times, and at each explosion Lillian and Dorothy Gish promptly fainted. The bursting shells are shown in his stupendous love drama "Hearts of the World", which appears in Gleichen Opera house Feb. 13th.

BUY A N IRRIGATED FARM BECAUSE:

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall, and in sure good crops, not occasionally, but every year.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodders, which insures good returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the years that it has been tried having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices up to $50 per acre, with 20 years to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000 for improvements.

(6% interest) no principle after first payment until end of fourth year, reduced interest if settlement conditions are complied and no water rental for first year. Contract can be paid off before maturity if desired.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record. For full particulars apply to cause it is difficult. If nothing else will shake you I will set myself to the fishing of Morgan. Now I am going to see you home to the Dowry House."

With a wan smile Mavis protested that no one would want to hurt the goose that was going to lay such golden eggs, but naturally her protest was unavailing. Kenyon insisted, and after running up to his bedroom to resume the disguise of "Mr. Clegg, Senior," escorted her over the moor to the gate in the privet hedge.

During the walk he kept a good look-out, without detecting any signs of prowling followers. But skirting the grounds of Comlyn Court he saw that the whole range of windows on the lower floor were brilliantly lit. Which was quite what might have been expected on a Sunday night when "That ought to be a great relief to you," said Kenyon, narrowly scanning the girl's face as he handed the letter back.

"It is a terrible letter," was the answer in tones of despair. "To me it is the last knell of the faint hope I have been clutching at that Tony might be able to clear himself."

"But, my dear Miss Comlyn, this rather vulgar screech vouches for Tony's clearance," protested Kenyon, wondering if trouble had shaken her mental balance.

"It does not clear him from association with the vile creature who could pen such bold impudence as that," Mavis declared, her usually placid features transformed with jealous fury. "That is what matters with me. I would have stuck to him through thick and thin—married him, even if I was sure that he was a murderer and a thief—if at the inquest he had made a clean denial. He could not do so, and this infamous letter tells me why. He was joy-riding with a fast woman who speaks of him as 'dear Tony,' and is evidently on terms of close familiarity with him."

"In that case—at least if that is the position you take up—I fail to understand why you have acted on this anonymous advice to confer with me," said Kenyon. "Why should you cross the moor late at night, followed as you suspect, by one of Tony's enemies, if your regard for him has ceased?"

He spoke sternly. His experience with female witnesses had left him with very little patience for inconsistencies attributable to temperament or hysteria. Mavis retaliated by bursting into tears. Burying her face in her hands she sobbed as if her heart would break.

"I have given up Tony—for myself," she faltered when the spasm died away. "I must be nothing to him, or he would of consent with a woman who could write like that. But I came to you, Mr. Kenyon, in the hope that you would use this letter to clear him of what the law would hold the graver charge. I thought you might be able to trace the writer."

"I will do that," rejoined Kenyon earnestly. "I will find her and force her to establish this alibi of the motor ride. I pledge you my word, Miss Comlyn, that I will do this. And you must do your part in setting out Tony on his feet again by breaking the horrible compact you have entered into with Morgan. He obtained it by threatening to produce proof of Tony's guilt, eh?"

Mavis shook her head sadly. "You are very kind," she said, "and if you can keep that pledge I shall have done all I set out to do. But I cannot break my promise to Mr. Morgan. My father has set his heart on it, and it doesn't really matter. Apart from all these accusations and suspicions my old sweetheart is lost to me—caught up and destroyed in the whirl of London life. You yourself hinted as much just now."

Kenyon strode twice up and down the farmhouse parlor and halted in front of the girl.

"Look here," he pleaded, "you have had it your own way so far. I am here to defend my friend. Only today I have discovered Morgan's reason for desiring you in marriage—a reason which includes his need to rid himself of his first wife. He believes you to be heirless to vast mineral wealth on your father's property. There is an enormous quantity of pitch blende, from which radium is extracted. There you have a temptation which would make such a man as Morgan commit any amount of murders. As soon as your father hears of this he will certainly stop the marriage."

Again Mavis shook her head sadly. "It may be as you say," she replied. "But Mr. Morgan has plainly shown me that he has command of evidence which would convict Tony. I myself should be called as a witness against him, and I should be unable to deny that I thought I saw him at the Court that day. If you went to my father with this surmise he would doubtless forbid the marriage, with the result that Morgan would immediately have Tony arrested and I should have to suffer the anguish of appearing against him. No, Mr. Kenyon, the only thing that will change my determination is actual proof, before the wedding day, that Morgan is responsible for his wife's death. Tony's innocence of the crime, or the reverse, doesn't affect the matter, so far as I am concerned, at all."

All at once Kenyon realized that he was beating the air—fighting his friend's cause on wrong lines. This girl cared not a jot for Morgan's mercenary motives; she was indifferent whether or not he had murdered his wife. If he was to prevent a greater tragedy than those which had preceded it he would have to reverse the order of his procedure and nail Morgan's crime to the counter first. The stoppage of the marriage would follow automatically by his arrest. The curtain was lifted a little way from what was in Mavis Comlyn's mind. The barrister's keen analysis of human nature perceived that the unhappy alliance "did not matter" to her because she did not mean to survive the day of its ratification. Fortunately Laura Gaspard's anonymous letter had put a new weapon into his hands. "It was a poisonous remedy, and it has aggravated the disease, but it was well meant and I may be able to use it," he told himself, rapidly surveying the position.

"Well, Miss Comlyn," he forced a laugh, "you have set me a fresh nut to crack, that's all. I must be content for Jasper Morgan's prosecution instead of counsel for Tony's defence. Frankly, I should prefer the latter, but I never shrink a brief because a weird assemblage of crooks housed at the mansion."

"Things are normal—so far," he muttered when he had bid Mavis good night and waited till he heard her close the front door of the Dowry House behind her.

CHAPTER XXII How to Scrap Old Tools

That same Sunday Night Jasper Morgan and Professor Zimbalist sat smoking and drinking whisky in the orchard house of evil memory. Only two of the electric lamps were on, the partial light emphasizing by the contrast of deep shadows the fantastic effect of the tropical foliage. Outside on the terrace Louis Gaspard, having received a brusque hint that he wasn't wanted, was pacing up and down. Laura had gone up to her room directly after dinner.

"I'm getting nervous," Jasper. "Things don't seem to be all coming our way," said Zimbalist, peering tremulously at a great flower that seemed to have eyes like a human face.

Morgan flicked the ash from his cigar. "Millions cannot be made without an occasional attack of the jumps," he replied. "The tramp that you're grizzling about doesn't worry me a finker's curse. I'll bet he's fifty miles away by now, and he won't be likely to come back after his experience in the pantry with the police within a yard of him. It is the curate's alleged father who is giving me beans. Jevons tipped me the wink at lunch that he was a man in disguise, wearing a false beard and eye brows, but I can't rightly place the swine. He can't be a Scotland Yard 'tec. They chuckled the job weeks ago. I should have shoved him down the shaft of the old mine this afternoon, but for the beautiful Laura. She pulled him back, and she has been acting queer since."

"Doesn't that tell you anything?" said Zimbalist.

"Heaps," was the rejoinder. "I cannot be sure, but Clegg, Senior, is probably Clayton Kenyon, the wildest fox at the Old Bailey bar and West's old schoolfellow and chum. In which case, Zim, we are dancing on hot bricks for a while, though I have taken steps to cool them. You noticed that Jevons did not wait at dinner tonight? Well, he has been on shadow duty for some hours."

"With good results, I trust?"

"With well marked ones. I happen to know that Laura is sweet on Kenyon, who is a regular player at my show in Brown street. Putting two and two together—her prompt action at the mine shaft and the fact that she has been setting her cap at West's chum—I scented treachery on the part of my lady, who has been well paid for her services. I set Jevons to watch her. She went to the Dowry House after tea and shoved a letter through the door. I sent Jevons back to shadow the Dowry House in case Miss Comlyn should make a move as a result of Laura's communication, but he hasn't reported yet."

Big Potato Crops With Electroculture

Experiments Show Scheme to Be Profitable

Striking experiments in electroculture were carried out by the South Wales Electrical Power Distribution Company during 1917 and 1918 on a two-acre plot of ground near Pontypridd. As regards ploughing and manuring, the whole plot was treated alike, but electroculture was applied to only a portion of the ground, the remainder serving as a "control" for the purposes of comparison. Potatoes were planted under precisely similar conditions over the whole area, and during 1917 the electrified portion yielded a crop heavier by 17.2 per cent. than that of the control portion. In 1918 the increase out of electroculture was 12.6 per cent., the reduction being explained on several grounds, such as that a smaller area of electric wires was used and that part of the controlled plot had had the benefit of electrification in the previous year. Experiments were also made with oats in an adjoining field, and although they were not carried out very thoroughly, they point to an increase of 25 per cent. in grain and 17 per cent. in straw. On the potato patch the wires were first arranged as a 6 foot rectangular network supported on insulators 6 ft. 6 ins. from the ground; in August, 1917, the height was reduced to 5 feet. During the 1918 experiment the wires were spaced 9 ft. apart, with no cross wires and were kept about two feet above the haulms. The network was fed through a transformer and rectified with current at between 30,000 volts and 39,000 volts, according to the degrees of weather; the amount of current taken varied from 2.5 milliamperes in dry and from 4 to 7 in wet weather during 1917, and from 0.35 to 0.8 during 1918. The apparatus never failed, even in the wettest of Welsh weather. On dark nights the wires could be seen glowing, and even the tips of the grass in the rectifier were touched with light. Insects seemed to avoid the wires, but occasionally they settled upon the networks, where they glowed and were electrocuted. Although the voltage is so high the current is so low that there is no danger to anything but insect life. Horses are extremely susceptible to electric shock, but one which broke into the network resulted undamaged, although carrying a good deal of wire with him. These experiments confirm the promising claims made for this application of electricity to agriculture which is being carefully studied by a special sub-committee of the British board of agriculture.

To the Farmers of Canada
Canada should Develop the Chilled Beef Trade Right Away
Dr. G. C. Creelman, commissioner of agriculture for the province of Ontario and principal of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, addressing the Agricultural Club of Ottawa at the University Club Rooms there, repeated a message to the farmers of Canada from Right Hon. R. E. Prothero, secretary of state for Great Britain: "I asked him for a message to the farmers of Canada," said Dr. Creelman, "and he told me that they wanted our chilled beef and that Canada should develop the chilled beef trade right away in preference to the live cattle trade. He urged that there should be no delay. He also said that after the war Great Britain would not devote so much effort to raising hogs because they could be fed cheaper on this side of the Atlantic and as long as she can get pork products from this continent she would be satisfied to do so."

Dr. Creelman, remarking on the present hold-up in the bacon purchases said that while he had no direct information he regarded it as merely a temporary congestion.

For Increasing Development
The announcement in a Saskatoon paper to the effect that one of the dry goods houses in the city had increased its capital seven-fold, shows the confidence which is expected in the future development of the country by business men. Other firms are also increasing their capital and operations. Saskatoon is in the centre of a rich and fertile country which is growing more prosperous every year, and which is reflecting its prosperity in the city's growth. It is typical of many other cities in Western Canada.

Of Interest to The Building Public

Historical Gathering of the Greater Winnipeg Board of Trade

The first "get together" dinner of the members of the Greater Winnipeg board of trade was held in the convention hall, board of trade building, Tuesday evening, Jan. 21. This was the largest gathering of its kind ever held in the city, there being over 1,000 members present.

The guest of the evening was Hon. Arthur E. McGeighen, who gave an address on the re-construction policies of the Union government. Interesting addresses were also given by Sir James Aikins, Dr. H. P. Whiddon, Premier Norris, R. D. Waugh, Mayor Gray, and President Carter.

At the centre table was Sir James Aikins, T. C. Norris, Hon. Arthur E. McGeighen, K.C.; Mayor Gray, Hon. Thomas Johnson, G. W. Allan, J. Parnell, H. M. Tucker, A. W. McLimont, R. L. Richardson, Ferris Bolton, Dr. A. E. Finley, Robert Cruise, M.P.; R. C. Henders, M.P.; Robert McKay, Dr. H. P. Whiddon, Major G. W. Andrews, D.S.O., M.P.; G. W. Markle, G. N. Jackson, A. K. Godfrey, Dr. M. R. Blake, Fred Davis, M.P.; R. D. Waugh, N. T. McMillan, W. A. McKay, W. N. Wilkinson, F. H. Davidson.

This will go down as a historical gathering in the board's history.

At a meeting of the members forum of the board of trade at the Fort Garry hotel, Jan. 23, a resolution was passed that the Memorandum act should be amended in the following manner:

1. That it be amended to permit after the first day of July, 1919, proceedings to be taken on mortgages and agreements of sale, if any portion of the interest, taxes and insurance is three months in arrears.
2. That from and after the date of the amending act all principal in arrears, according to original terms of mortgages or agreement of sale bearing interest at less than 6 per cent. should bear interest at 6 per cent. as if that rate were mentioned in such mortgage or agreement.
3. That no other change should be made until 1920 when all restrictions should be removed if any interest, taxes or insurance is in arrears, and that an equitable method be made, allowing proceedings to be taken on arrears.

The suggestion also was made that a committee of the forum be prepared to render assistance to the government, if the government so desired, in an endeavor to decide what form such legislation should take.

The forum is still investigating the question of the federated financing of relief agencies and a report on this question will soon be taken up. A committee has at present under consideration a choice of a slogan for the Winnipeg board of trade, but no decision has been made as yet.

Proposed $300,000 School Building
Saskatoon, Sask.—Plans for a building for the Saskatoon normal school are under way and the normal faculty believes the fall session of 1920 will open in the new building. It will cost approximately $300,000 and will be located on the university campus. The building will be known as the Teachers' college. The new building will accommodate about 300 students. It will be one of a number of buildings to be erected. A gymnasium and a library are among other buildings projected.

SAT UP IN BED TO GET HER BREATH

Palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, inability to lie on the left side, feelings as if smothering, oppressed feeling in the chest, dizzy and faint spells, tired, weak, out of feeling, involuntary twitching of the muscles, sleeplessness, restlessness, etc., all point to the fact that either the heart or nerves, or both, are not what they should be. Any of these conditions should be remedied immediately so as to avoid a complete breakdown of the whole system.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring energy to the weakened constitution, strengthen and regulate the heart, and tone up the tired, overstrained nerves.

Mrs. William Steeves, Chemical Road, N.B., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles and palpitation of the heart, which was so bad I had to sit straight up in bed to get my breath. I could not lie on my left side at all. I tried doctor after doctor, also several different remedies, but got no help from them. My mother insisted on me trying Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. By the time I had used one box, I was feeling very much better. I took in all three boxes, and now I am in perfect health and can enjoy a good sound sleep, and can lie on my left side without any trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The architect presents for your consideration a seven-room house that is artistic as to exterior and superlatively well planned as to interior.

The "expensive" effect produced by the combining of half-stucco and half-shingles for the exterior walls will meet with approval. Stucco on metal bath backed with waterproof building paper, or one of the lighter grades of ready roofing, will result in a permanent, damp-proof wall. If the stucco wall is handled as suggested, there is very little probability that cracks, due to expansion and contraction under wide and sudden variations in temperature, will appear.

The grey color of the stucco lends itself to combining with a variety of

Summary of New York Conditions

Great Demand for Building Material Is Predicted

The window glass situation is typical of practically every other basic building commodity at present, according to the Dow Service. Daily Building Reports. Stocks were never so low. Jobbers' stocks are sufficient for any moderate demand, but since manufacturing interests had laid their plans for a very much restricted output during the season just starting it will be impossible for them to produce glass in the quantities that probably will be called for. Therefore the strain upon current jobbers' stocks is beginning to be felt.

The present season was to have started on Dec. 8, but because of the desire of manufacturers to conform to the wishes of the war service committee, no repairs to plants had been made during the idle period, and with two years' depreciation, it is impossible to throw in anything like plant capacity at present. Some will be able to start, but architects and contractors will not be able to figure on anything like adequate stocks until well into the close of the present season.

There will be little or no glass at hand to replenish stocks until the middle of January. This alone would affect prices, but the skilled artisans of the glass industries have had up for some time a wage increase proposition which probably will be partially granted.

This fact positively assures a still further advance in price, but it is upon that point that conferences at Pittsburgh and elsewhere are being called so that every possible influence can be exerted to keep prices from skyrocketing and thus chill the enthusiasm of the prospective builder to immediately start his building program. In the meantime local glass distributors report a notable increase in the number of plans they have been asked to figure, and taking this as a basis, it may be accepted as a fact that a good building movement can be made a reality if present construction costs are not further inflated by reason of arbitrary price advances in building materials or labor.

In the common brick department there is a very definite effort being made upon the part of both manufac-shingle-stain, and decorating colors. The taste of the builder will dictate the combination that most appeals to himself. Any combination of strong, conservative colors will result in a beautiful home.

This house is well called convenient. May emphasis be placed on the importance of choosing a plan that makes use of every foot of usable floor area? The first cost of a home is not increased very greatly by the installation, when building, of convenient coat closets and linen closets, handy cupboards, ample pantry space, a soiled linen chute. Note the detail in the kitchen that makes it possible to place washed china directly on the pantry shelf. This saves innumerable steps for the busy housewife.

turer and distributor to keep the market from running away. In almost every department there are individual manufacturers of many building commodities who are finding it difficult to pass by the temptation to sell at a sacrifice to obtain ready funds, and there is also an inclination upon the part of some distributors to restrain the impulse to buy so as to crowd the market down as low as possible. There is in consequence, a wide margin of prices quoted. As low as $13.50 has been bid for "off load" brick and yet there are cases where the best grades are being held at $15 a thousand. The dealer knows that the manufacturer is trying to get as much brick into the Fifty-second street docks as possible before navigation closes. That means covering charges which add a dollar a thousand and per month to the cost of brick.

The manufacturer, on the other hand, knows that if he does not get his brick here it will do him little good, and counting upon the great activity developing in architects' offices, which are getting their organizations together on a scale preparatory for perhaps the biggest demand for building material in history, he is taking no chances on having his stocks tied up until spring. Behind the whole problem is the basic fact that the demand is here, the supply is extremely moderate, to say the least, and navigation will close within a fortnight with the dealers of New York still unstocked for winter.

The cement interests are plainly planning to launch themselves upon an international market for the first time. The mills of the country have a capacity for barely normal domestic demand, but they are trying to offset this by rushing manufacture at full speed so as to have stock on hand when the export movement begins. Lumber is the only commodity that shows signs of price recessions, but that is only true of certain departments.

Building material manufacturers are told plainly by architects and owners that the size of the peacetime building movement is entirely within their hands. If they make the cost attractive owners will build. They are working toward that end.

The light of happiness is often shut out by the shadow of suspicion.

Approaching Immigration

Growth of Centres of Population of Prairie Provinces

The rapidity of the growth of the centres of population of the prairie provinces during the years nineteen hundred and nine, nineteen hundred and ten and nineteen hundred and eleven are almost unprecedented. Looking back one can only compare the phenomenal development of hamlet into village, and village into city with the mushroom growth attendant on mining and oil booms. Fortunately the opportunities that called people from all countries of the world to share in our heritage were chimerical. The bounteous hand of nature really held the reward to which the finger of opportunity beckoned.

During the last four years the whole world has read "Canada." There is no veil of speculation now over what she has to offer.

The result is beyond peradventure. The troops returning to Canada will be the immediate vanguard of a continuous march of immigration.

It is high time that the construction phase of the problem presented by the fast approaching increase in population of Western Canada should be taken out of the talk stage into the stage of action.

Rather unfortunately, because of the impression left with that section of the public that needs and wants to build, the two years directly preceding the war saw a slump in the prices of building materials.

Building has been practically at a standstill for three years. If instead of that condition we had had during the whole interval a steady, healthy demand for buildings and the demand as it has risen had been satisfied, the cost of structures now would be higher than it was at the beginning of the period.

Those who need buildings are awakening to the fact that with a quick increase in population will come a quick call for increased housing accommodation; office space will suddenly be at a premium; infant industries will, over night, become lusty youths shouting for room in which to develop. They are making preparation accordingly.

Industrial Plants

The attitude of the proprietors of industries toward the accommodation provided in the buildings in which they have been "carrying on" may be in numerous instances expressed in the words of an executive of an industry. They were uttered some months ago. "The day that peace is declared, plans for a new building will be begun."

When questioned about cost of construction, he said, "The determining factor in our case is not the first cost of the proposed building but the necessity for increased accommodation if we are to maintain our place as an enterprise that can compete successfully with all comers. In other words, prospective profits dictate our line of action."

Saskatchewan's Butter Exports

Ninety-seven cars of butter, valued at $1,215,000, were exported from Saskatchewan last year. This is a gain of eighteen cars over the number sent out of the province in 1917, and an increase of $330,000 in value. Part of the increase in value is due to higher prices that were ruling in 1918 over those of the previous year. Notwithstanding this the year's working shows satisfactory progress.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which merely make the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called frezzer applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of frezzer, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

The Busy Store

Important Notice to our Customers OUR POLICY FOR 1919

We are forced by existing conditions to adopt the following for the year 1919. It is fair to say our customers are bound to give them the same treatment as we receive in the way of terms. All the wholesalers and manufacturers are now on what is known as the 50 day basis, but with our system the customer gets 60 days if he so requires it. For example:

Your purchase for this month if not paid for by the 15th of February you will receive notice from our office that your account is due and payable and if not paid by the end of February you will again be asked for a settlement in full.

It is generally known that the store that gives the longest terms must necessarily charge the longest prices. Mail order competition is so keen that in order to meet their prices it is absolutely necessary to meet them or nearly so in terms.

We do not believe in making the customer that pays cash for his goods pay for the one that does not. In event of our contracting any bad or doubtful debts the same will be charged directly to profit and loss account. In marking our merchandise we are not adding anything on for possible loss through growing credit. Our representative will be calling on the town trade and will solicit and deliver orders and any business done through this channel will not only be appreciated but will receive your prompt attention.

We further wish to have known that any person who purchases goods from the Busy Store and finds them not what they were represented to be we will gladly refund the purchase price, give you credit or replace them with other goods. Surely the foregoing policy will not only be appreciated but will receive your prompt attention.

Yours for service,

QUEENSTOWN

It surely is a fine winter for the stock.

Jay Edie has rented his farm to Jack Dietz.

Have you contributed your bit to the roll of honor?

There is a new baby girl at Sid Page's house. Congratulations, Sid.

Not many Queenstoners went to California this winter no doubt owing to small crops.

Harry Dietz, Steve Williams and the Mill's are the only ones I know of who took the California trip this winter.

Some of the schools of the district are running while others are not. The same old trouble crop of teachers.

Church is now held in the hall regularly every Sunday at 8 p. m. and Sunday school will be started next Sunday. Rev. T. Paul from Calgary will speak next Sunday.

Up to the time of writing Alberta has been a regular summer resort. Gophers are out and some early spring birds have been heard singing. Alberta is hard to beat if it would only rain once in a while.

As usual during the winter months some hot out here change hands. W. McCabe has sold his old place south of Indian Lake to a party unknown. Mr. McCabe is moving further east on to some grazing land he bought at the recent land sale on the reserve.

War Savings Stamps Promotes Thrift.

The box social and dance in the Shamrock School Friday evening last proved a most enjoyable affair.

After paying all expenses the sum of $115 was realized, which will be used in supply a kitchen for the school that the children may have hot lunches. The highest price paid for a basket was $15.

Sapper James Ball came in from Chancellors last week and spent a few days with his friends. Jimmie looks better than he has since he stopped Hun led and says he is feeling fine. He has taken a C. P. R. war farm at Chancellors, is ready to operate it and now has a trade.

Who wouldn't be happy when the soldier's dream comes true.

For a Quicker Start

When you start your car, don't try to do it all with the starter button, for that only wastes the current. Prime your cylinders and then:

1. Set your controls right, with retarded Spark and throttle slightly open.
2. Throw out the clutch and take some of the load off the engine.
3. Then and not till then—step on the battery, and away she'll go.

We test, repair and recharge storage batteries, and always carry a full supply of battery parts, new batteries and also rental batteries.
